

A script from

“Love is...”

by
Rebecca Wimmer

- What This script is a Reader’s Theatre that tells the truth about love. (Themes: love, commitment, relationships, character of God, disappointment, betrayal, true)
- Who Voice 1- female
Voice 2- male
Voice 3- female
- When Present day
- Wear (Props) Actors should be dressed in simple black on black or black and white.
Voice 2 should wear a wedding ring
- Why 1 Corinthians 13:1-8, Romans 12:2
- How This skit can easily be performed memorized or not (use black music stands and have the actors read the script during performance). No blocking is necessary. The dialogue is spoken directly to the audience and the actors do not interact with one another. Each actor will represent several of the voices in our culture that speak to what Love is, finally speaking what the Bible says Love is.
- Time Approximately 3-4 minutes; This script is 3½ pages long.

Actors can be line up as Voice 1 Stage Right, Voice 2 Center Stage, Voice 3 Stage Left.

- V1: Love is a drag.
V2: Love is bliss!
V3: Love is new beginnings.
V1: Love is a well-timed kiss.
V3: Love can kiss my...
V2: Love helps me get by.

Pause

- V3: Love is something I need.
V1: Love is something I've lost.
V3: Love is something I'm in.
V2: Love is something I'm falling out of.

Pause

- V1: Love is hard.
V2: Love is...ahhhhh.
V3: Love isn't in the cards.
V1: Love is...eh.

Pause

- V2: Love is mom's perfume.
V1: Love is this diamond ring.
V3: Love has left the bedroom.
V2: Love is a one night fling.

Pause

- V2: Love is friends and family.
V1: Love is prince charming and living happily.

V2: Love is like a dance.

V3: Love, after 2 kids and ten years has little to do with romance.

Pause

V1: Love?

V3: Love?

V2: Love.

V3: Love is spelled T-I-M-E

V2: Love is spelled R-E-S-P-E-C-T

V1: Love is spelled U-N-ME

V2: Love?

V1: Love?

V3: Love.

V1: Love sometimes has to say no.

V2: Love sometimes has to say yes.

V3: Love is more than a wedding dress.

To read the rest of this script and perform it, download the full version at SkitGuys.com!