

A script from

“The Holy Ghost Story”

by Eddie James

- What It's Halloween and some children have gathered to tell ghost stories. When things get a little scary, they are reminded that there is one Spirit that takes away all of our fears. (Themes: Halloween, Holy Ghost, Fear, Spirit, Help, Comforter)
- Who 4 children played by youth or adults.
Parent
- When Halloween present
- Wear (Props) It would be fun if each child was dressed up in a costume.
Flashlights
- Why John 14:26
- How This skit can be all girls, all guys or a mixture of both. The adult in the skit can be a male or female as well, but needs to be bigger than life. When children are together they have tons of energy, so make sure you do! If the actors are having fun, the audience will have fun. Remember - kids will say big words, but they are innocent in nature.
- Time Approximately 4-6 minutes

Lights are low and flashlights are on. Kid 1 has flashlight under his face.

Kid 1: And every Halloween night he comes out from his dungeon and he takes his claw and he looks for kindergartners to eat so he can get really full to sleep for another year until Halloween comes again.

All other little kids react in terror.

Kid 2: Say no more! Say no more! I'm so scared. I'm going to have to sleep with my parents.

Kid 3: I wet myself.

Kid 4: My turn. My turn to tell a Halloween story...There was this one time..

Kid 2: Didn't you hear me! My five years in this world are telling me I am not able to handle any more of these true to life stories of betrayal, murder, lost love and paranormal phenomenon.

Kid 1: Do you even know what you are saying?

Kid 2: Unfortunately. I watch a lot of CSI.

Kid 4: Enough! My turn. I heard on Halloween that the old lady that lives in the house down the street...

Kid 1: You mean the one with all the cats?

Kid 4: The exact - same - evil - one.

Kid 3: I love CATS!!

All little kids stop what they are doing and look at Kid 3 as if to say, "you are such a dork".

Kid 4: Enough!! I'm so sure. Now, listen to what I am telling you. It could save your life.

Kid 2: The only thing that can save your life is forensic evidence.

Now, all the little kids look at Kid 2 as the dork.

Kid 4: They say...

Kid 3 raises hand high in the air as in trying to ask a question.*

Kid 4: Every Halloween she puts a potion in - (keeps looking at Kid 3 with his/her hand up) why is your hand up? This isn't Mrs. Tomlinson's home room class.

- Kid 3: Who's "they"?
- Kid 4: They?
- Kid 3: Yeah... you said, "they say". Who's they? Um... is "they" my grandpa? Or the mailman? Or that nice lady that yells French words at me when I mess up her garden? Are they, "they"?
- Kid 1: Did you fall on your head when you were like two years old or something?
- Kid 4: I'm losing my pantients!
- Kid 1: You're losing your pants?
- Kid 3: It's a ghost trying to steal your pants! If they take your pants, the ghost will be stealing our pants next! Run for your lives!
- Kid 2: Ghosts have no DNA! We are so done for!

ENDING:

- Kid 2: Mr./Mrs. Vickerson, thanks for the story. I needed to hear we don't have anything to be 'fraid of.
- Parent: Well, I'm glad you liked it. Don't forget it.
- Kid 2: I won't. I still may have to sleep with my mom and dad though.

Parent and Kid 2 start to head to the kitchen and see Kid 3 just sitting there and not moving.

- Parent: Aren't you coming?
- Kid 3: I can't.
- Parent: Why not?
- Kid 3: I need a new pair of pants.

Lights out. The End.
